PART I　DICTATION

British holiday habits

In the late 1970s, air travel became affordable for the average family in the UK, and more people started travelling abroad for their summer holidays. After all, the British weather wasn't very good, even in summer, so a lot of people left the country for a vacation.

In the 1980s and 1990s, young people in the UK became wealthier on average. As a result, they started to go abroad in groups, to places such as Spain and Greece. Once they arrived at their destination, they met with other groups of young people and had one long party.

British holidaying habits have begun to change, however. Climate change means that the UK now has a hotter climate, so people do not need to go overseas to find good weather. Also, going abroad is more expensive. As a result, more British people are choosing to spend their summer holidays in the UK.

Dear Sally,

Summer vacation is coming. It is a good choice to spend your holiday in my hometown. You can enjoy beautiful countryside sceneries here and play games with a lot of children. Just take Bus 105 from our school and get off at Little-stone town. I'll be waiting for you. Call me before your trip!
